Statement by House Majority Leader Steve Crisafulli regarding the Long Range Financial Outlook

Tallahassee, Fla.—House Majority Leader Steve Crisafulli (R-Merritt Island) today released the following statement regarding the adoption of the Long Range Financial Outlook during today's Joint Legislative Budget Commission meeting.

"I am encouraged by the news out of the Legislative Budget Commission's meeting today that Florida is likely to once again see a budget surplus in the upcoming fiscal year. Republican policies have helped improve Florida's economy and the tough, but responsible budget decisions we made over the last several years are paying off. Though we will continue to follow our fiscally conservative principles as we develop our budget proposal in the upcoming session, I am hopeful that these improved conditions will allow us the opportunity to provide a significant tax break for Florida families and businesses."
